

The targets of this two-days conference are all professionals working with children, parents, and families in social work, healthcare and education. The schedule includes a plenary morning and a number of workshops based on active methods about experiences, approaches and tools for working with families employed in the partner countries of the project (Italy, France, Spain, Romania, UK). PAGE (Parental Guidance and Education) is an international Erasmus + project designed to share parent support and guidance methodsa. Public social-educational services and organizations, NGOs, families and universities take part in an exchange of practices to overcome the fragmentation of their work and to recompose its complexity.
