

DIPARTIMENTO DI FILOSOFIA, SOCIOLOGIA, PEDAGOGIA e PSICOLOGIA APPLICATA (FISPPA)

Convegno Internazionale

28 e 29 Marzo 2017

Università di Padova, Sala delle Edicole, Arco Vallarosso
Piazza Capitaniato 3 – Padova

La letteratura internazionale sulla valutazione degli apprendimenti in contesto universitario sottolinea la necessità che il mondo accademico proceda a (ri)considerare la valutazione attraverso una nuova chiave di lettura, ponendo maggiore attenzione alla funzione formativa e incentivante. E' in questo contesto che sono emerse prospettive di ricerca quali l'Assessment for Learning e la Sustainable Assessment. L'incontro, diretto a docenti e studenti, ha l'obiettivo di generare riflessione e dibattito sulla valutazione degli apprendimenti, mettendo a confronto gli autorevoli contributi dei relatori internazionali con alcune esperienze italiane.

INTERNATIONAL INVITED SPEAKERS

Dr. Fabio Aricò is Associate Professor (Senior Lecturer) of Economics at the University of East Anglia. He researches on Higher Education Policy and Practice, and Economics of Education. An experienced and well-recognised teacher, Fabio is a multiple pedagogical awards winner. He has recently completed a project on embedding and measuring student self-efficacy in the classroom, and he is currently working on a nationally funded project to pilot measures of learning gain. Fabio is interested in assessment, widening access to Higher Education, learning technologies and learning analytics.

Sally Brown is an independent consultant Emerita professor at Leeds Beckett University where she was previously pro Vice Chancellor for assessment learning and teaching. She is also a visiting professor at Liverpool John Moores University, University of South Wales and Plymouth University. She publishes widely on teaching learning and particularly assessment. She is chair of the UK Association of National Teaching Fellows and enjoys keynoting and giving workshops at conferences and universities globally.

David Nicol is Professor Emeritus of Higher Education at the University of Strathclyde. From 2005-2008 he was Director of the REAP project [Re-engineering Assessment Practices], a £1m initiative to improve assessment and feedback across three Scottish Universities and from 2011-13 he was expert consultant to 8 UK university-wide assessment projects. His current research is on educational change management and on peer review, scenarios where students evaluate and make judgements about academic work, their own and that of others.

Phil Race is an independent consultant and visiting professor at The University of Plymouth and University Campus Suffolk. He is very extensively published and his best-known works are Making Learning Happen (Sage) and The Lecturer's Toolkit (Routledge). He is known for his work on the principal factors underpinning learning.

Professor Kay Sambell is widely known for her contributions to the Assessment for Learning movement in Higher Education. Between 2005-2011 she co-led a UK Centre for Excellence in Teaching and Learning. Her talk will illuminate and reflect upon the approaches that the Centre adopted in order to promote assessment for learning across the institution. Her workshop will focus on practical strategies for putting the principles of assessment for learning into everyday classroom practice.
